ABOUT THE PROGRAM

In an effort to promote a sense of connection for our students with the local community and help further W&J's commitment to creating a dynamic relationship with local businesses, the College launched the W&J Local Business Ambassadors program. The program highlights businesses which provide a discount to students at W&J through joint promotion and marketing. Participating businesses display the program decal, shown on the back of this brochure.

For more information and links to the websites of the participating businesses, go to: www.washjeff.edu/discounts.

A TASTE OF WASHINGTON

As part of the Business Ambassadors program, the College also will often provide opportunities for students and businesses to connect on campus. "A Taste of Washington" will be starting this semester with the goal of giving participating businesses face to face interaction with students. Students will be able to sample products, learn about the services the business provides, and learn about the specific discount(s) offered.

More details about the time and place of these events will be in W&J Weekly throughout the semester.
